175    $200    Tree of Love and Hope

Grandma Jo's love shines through in this very special tree. This ultra-slim Bristol Cashmere Christmas tree stands 5 feet tall and is pre-lit. Natural pine cones accentuate its rustic charm. The beautiful orange glass balls represent childhood cancer. It is "Colton orange" and Jo wore this color proudly. The cream and gold silk drums represent Colton's Army. It is a testimony to how the Matter family rose to the occasion and made every dollar they raised to fight leukemia matter. Beat your drum loudly, never stop beating until there is a cure!! The blue hydrangeas again are a reminder of Jo, her generosity, dedication, and love for her family and friends. The lime green that is incorporated throughout the tree and also in the gifts under the tree represents F.R.O.G., which is the theme that immediately pulled everyone together. The cobalt blue balls represent family and friends that united together to find a cure.
